DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because of following informalities:

On Fig. 16, step S1, ""X direction" should be changed to -- Z direction -- to be consistent with specification, step S4, "Charge NA large" should be changed to -- Change NA small -- or the like, and step S6 does not have any meaning since it is followed by S7 whether the answer is Yes or No.

Corrected drawing sheets are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1-2 are objected to because of the following informalities:

The acronym "NA" should be spelled out when introduced in independent claims for the first time. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. On claims 1-2, line 10, "the variable diaphragm" lacks antecedent basis. On claim 1, the last line, "the focusing position" lacks antecedent basis. On claim 2, line 2, "the sample" lacks antecedent basis. The terms "low magnification" and "high NA" in claim 3 are relative terms which renders the claim indefinite. Those terms are not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ban et al. (Patent No. JP 06-034345).

Ban et al. discloses steps of scanning the sample (1, i.e., analyte) with light from a light source (6) which passed a confocal pattern while moving one of a sample and an objective lens (2) along the direction of an optical axis at a predetermined sampling interval; acquiring two or more sectioning images by converting light from the sample which penetrates the confocal pattern through the objective lens by the photoelectric conversion means (5, i.e., CCD); obtaining a focusing position according to a predetermined function based on the plurality of sectioning images taken by the photoelectric conversion means; changing an opening diameter of the variable diaphragm (3, i.e., adjustable aperture diaphragm) arranged at the pupil position of the objective lens or a conjugated position to the pupil position thereof to reduce a NA of the objective lens when focusing is not obtained and repeating an operation of taking two or more sectioning images by the photoelectric conversion means and obtaining the focusing position; two or more sectioning images are taken without changing the predetermined sampling interval when the NA of the objective lens is changed; an operation to which the focusing position is obtained is repeated until three or more sectioning images are acquired; and whether the sectioning image uses data of a part where disorder is caused by an aberration of the objective lens is judged and the sectioning image is acquired by reducing the NA of the objective lens when the disordered data is used (Paragraphs 0010 – 0015).
